Twelfth District Torn Up by Newburger's Tammany Nomination.

Tammany Men Delighted With the Wigwag County Ticket.

De Lancey Nicoll and Comptroller Myers Safe in the Fold.

George Bliss Predicts Defeat For the Fusion Ticket.

One nomination on the Tammany ticket has created a sensation, and points to serious defection from the County Democratic ranks.

This nomination is Joseph E. Newburger, to be one of the City Court judges.

JOSEPH E. NEWBURGER.

Mr. Newburger had been discussed as a judicial candidate by the Fusionists, whose offer of the smallest place on the ticket he indignantly refused.

Mr. Newburger is the first lieutenant of Patrick Keenan, the County Democratic leader in the Twelfth Assembly District, the County Democratic stronghold of the city.

He was disgusted with the Fusion ticket, and his nomination by Tammany was expected to disrupt the Keenan organization.

Mr. Newburger smiled complacently upon an EVENING WORLD reporter who visited him in his basement law office at his house, 271 Seventh street.

"Do I accept the nomination tendered me by the Tammany Hall Democracy for the City Court?" he repeated. "Yes, sir, I do, and I hope to win."

DE LANCEY NICOLL.

"Were you asked if you would accept before your nomination?"

"Yes, a party-I do not know whether it was an authorized committee or not-but a party of several leading Tammany men called on me at my Broadway office, yesterday afternoon and asked me if I would accept a nomination and I replied after some consideration, in the affirmative."

"In spite of the fact that ex-County Clerk Pat Keenan escorted Chairman Jackson to the platform at last night's County Democratic Convention and voted for the endorsement of the People's Municipal League ticket, it is hinted that he will support you and the Tammany Democratic ticket. Is it true?"

Mr. Newburger smiled again and replied: "I cannot speak for Mr. Keenan. I know how he feels towards me. I was with him all day this morning. We visited the County Democratic headquarters in this district, at Sixth street and Avenue C, and there were hundreds of the boys there during the night."

"They came down fresh from the County Democratic Convention to hear for the first time of my nomination. There was inquiry from some of them as to how to formulate their resignations from the organization."

"Mr. Keenan wanted no office. That I know."

THEODORE W. MYERS.

"Why should County Democrats vote the Fusion ticket?" asked Mr. Newburger.

"The strongest County Democrat on it is Comptroller Myers, and he has been nominated by Tammany Hall. The next strongest is Judge Freedman, and he has been nominated by Tammany Hall. Who are the rest of the men on the Fusion ticket?"

"Do you think County Democrats will vote for Hugh J. Grant?" ventured the reporter.

"Why not? There has never been any bitter opposition to Mayor Grant except among a few of the leaders of the County Democratic Party."

"The County Democratic leaders place all their hopes in John Goff for District Attorney, and they will undertake to elect him at whatever sacrifice of the rest of the ticket."

on the same ground as that taken for Judge Fitzgerald a year ago. Mr. Goff is expected to poll an immense Irish vote, for he is very popular with the Irish-Americans, and is a member of many Irish societies.

But the answer Nicol will have the backing of the Fusionists and of many non-partisan citizens who want to see a District Attorney who will perform his duties.

"I have the whole ticket will win. When I was asked to run I said yes on condition that I am named for the long term, five years, and that was done."

No County Democrats will be more likely to vote for a man named Nicol than the P. M. L. conglomeration, for there are more County Democrats on the Tammany ticket than on the other, and there are no Republicans on the Tammany ticket.

The members of the Twelfth Assembly District County Democratic organization were very much delighted with the nomination of Joseph E. Newburger, and almost all night long they talked about the ticket, and declared that for the first time in ten years the district will give a Tammany majority this fall.

JOHN J. GRANT.

The members of the Twelfth Assembly District County Democratic organization were very much delighted with the nomination of Joseph E. Newburger, and almost all night long they talked about the ticket, and declared that for the first time in ten years the district will give a Tammany majority this fall.

Tammany's ticket is the topic of today, as the People's League ticket was the event of the previous day. It makes the opening in the Fusion ticket a hot subject, and one which will last until the polls close twenty-four days hence.

Both sides profess to be confident of victory, and today an EVENING WORLD reporter failed to find an adherent of Tammany Hall who had a breath of disapproval to express in regard to a single candidate upon that ticket. John J. Grant, however, where a Tammany man was found.

Tammany's ticket is a surprise to the rank and file. Except as to its head, Hugh J. Grant, who was renominated for Mayor, it had not been expected, and the 5,000 delegates who crowded the old wigwag to select the ticket agreed on by the Committee of Twenty-four as the bitterest opponent of the dominant Tammany ticket.

It is a ticket which distributes favors where they will do the most good to the organization, and it is rationally received by the adherents of the Fusion, who consider it the best possible tribute to the political acumen of their leaders.

Two County Democrats are named on it as the two candidates of the opposition ticket are endorsed.

Comptroller Theodore W. Myers and Supervisor Court Judge John J. Grant are given a walkover.

The former's administration of the Finance Department, which was accorded such praise by the People's Municipal League, was acknowledged to be faultless by Tammany Hall, and he is unanimously called on to continue in his responsible position for another three years.

JOSEPH E. NEWBURGER.

Joseph E. Newburger, who was chosen as the candidate for Sheriff, is the leader in the Ninth Assembly District, and is selected because of his strength in the neighborhood where the Fusion candidate, William H. Cora, resides and is known to have his greatest following.

De Lancey Nicoll, the young lawyer, who made for himself a name by his able prosecution of the Aldermanic bondholders while Assistant District Attorney under District Attorney Martineau, the Tammany candidate for Prosecuting Officer.

His nomination was a surprise, in view of the fact that he was last year's opponent for Tammany Hall for the same position four years ago.

He was chosen, however, because the leaders recognized in the alliance choice, John W. Goff, one of the most reliable candidates on the Fusion ticket, and they desired to oppose their strongest man to him.

Leonard A. Gierberich, who will step down from the City Court bench to run for County Clerk, is another Fusion ticket candidate, recently mentioned for the same position three years ago, when the late Edward F. Kelly was elected to the same position.

Chief Justice David McLean, of the City Court, was deemed worthy of promotion and was placed in nomination for the Superior Court Judgeship, made vacant by the retirement of Judge Richard O'Gorman on account of ill health.

His election would create another vacancy on the Court bench for Goff, Hill to fill by appointment.

There is not a candidate on this ticket who is not a politician, and it compares in that regard with the Fusion ticket which was named by the P. M. L., which raised the banner of "business not politics" when it started in to reform the municipal administration of the city.

THE TRUSTY ALLIANCE BETWEEN THE PEOPLE'S MUNICIPAL LEAGUE, THE O. P. F. and the County Democratic Party, which was negotiated at the Hotel Brunswick, has been sealed by the endorsement of the P. M. L. and the County Democratic Party, of the People's Municipal League ticket.

In neither of the conventions was this alliance broken through with any exception, though the Fusion ticket was endorsed in the Republican.

In the former the opponents of the Fusion ticket were the County Democratic Party, and in the latter the County Democratic Party, and no resolutions or motions were in accord with the Fusion idea were entertained.

Resolutions condemning Tammany Hall were adopted at a conference, but were not carried through, and a committee appointed to secure its completion by naming a candidate for County Clerk.

SOME REPUBLICAN NAMING.

Not so at Webster Hall, where Judge Patterson's Convention met to carry out the Hotel Brunswick agreement.

The opponents of a Democratic coalition were Chairman McLean and allowed to tell why they would not support the Fusion ticket. The straight-tongued were on hand in force, though their numbers were not sufficient to overcome the vote of the machine.

The names of Democrats on the ticket were listed, and speeches were made by Col. George Bliss, Colonel Elliott F. Shepard, Seth Stillman and Prof. Donaldson, all of whom were in favor of the Fusion ticket, and the endorsement of the County Democratic Party and the endorsement of the County Democratic Party.

PROTESTION BY COL. BLISS.

Col. Bliss declared that the ticket will be shown under an election day by a majority of 20,000 to 30,000; that no power could bind Republicans to vote for Democrats, and that a majority of the Republicans in his District, the Eleventh, would not vote for the ticket.

OTHERS ON TOP.

"Wicked," Fred Gibbs had not repeated of his wickedness, and still less the right against Fusion in the Thirteenth Assembly District.

He was nominated for the Assembly at the regularly called Republican Convention in the Thirteenth Assembly District because his delegates were successful at the primaries, and he had secured every room in which a convention might be held at No. 260 Eighth avenue, the place named by the Republican County Committee, and kept the Cowie-Sprague contestants out, with the aid of the police.

No. 260 is the Eighth avenue entrance to the Grand Opera House Building, and the Cowie people were obliged to hold their convention in a hall on the Twenty-third street side of the building.

Ernest Harvier, the County Democratic leader of the Ninth District, commented on the exclusion of Voorhis men from the ticket.

LEONARD A. GIERBERICH.

This morning on the failure of Tammany Hall to give the Voorhis Democracy a place on the ticket, Leonard A. Gierberich, of the Fusion ticket, said he was in favor of "not giving to the Voorhis people the vacant place on our ticket—the County Democratic ticket."

ROBT. PREPARING A LETTER.

Francis M. Scott, the Fusion candidate for Mayor, did not have his letter of acceptance ready when seen by an EVENING WORLD reporter this morning. "I intend to write it between now and Monday," he said, "when it will be ready for the press."

NOW CHIEF JUSTICE DALY.

The Choice of His Associates for the Place of Honor.

For a second time in his history the Court of Common Pleas has a Chief Justice Daly. Chief Justice Charles F. Daly was the first and the new Chief Justice is Mr. Joseph F. Daly. The choice was made to-day, the new Chief Justice receiving the votes of all of his associates, who are Judges Miles Beach, Henry Wilder Allen, Henry W. Bookstaver, Henry Bischoff, Jr., and Roger A. Pryor.

The Chief Justice was elected in 1884 for a term of fourteen years. He is the brother of Augustus Daly, the manager of Daly's Theatre.

KIDNAPPED BY A COWBOY.

"Colorado George" of Wild West Fame in a Police Cell.

Detective Sergeant McCarthy, of the Central Office, arranged a red-shirted cowboy named George Wade, alias Colorado George, in Jefferson Market Police Court this morning on a charge of kidnapping the sixteen-year-old son of Constable Ferris of Stamford, Conn.

Wade was in Stamford with a blow, and he induced the boy to go with him. The boy took a gold watch and chain and other property belonging to his father.

Wade is one of the Texans who went to Europe with Buffalo Bill. Justice Smith remanded him until to-morrow.

SAY WHALEN STOLE $6,000.

The Defaulting Hoffman House Book-keeper Held for Trial.

William E. Whalen, the defaulting book-keeper of the Hoffman House, who was arrested in Montreal and brought back to this city, was arraigned in Jefferson Market Court this morning and charged by Edward S. Stokes with the larceny of $13,500.

It is alleged that he had stolen $6,000 altogether. The $13,500 which he specifically charged with having stolen was the amount of a bill paid him by General B. F. Lyman, a guest at the Hoffman House.

Whalen waived examination and was held.

KIERNAN SET FREE.

Local News in Brief.

Fourteen-year-old Alexander Fraumberger, of Jackson street, rolled a barrel of sugar from the top of a store to-day, but was caught and held for trial.

BANKERS' WIVES JAILED.

Byrnes's Men Make High-Handed Arrests at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Ladies Taken Without Warrants to Police Headquarters.

Judge Barrett Promptly Grants Writs of Habeas Corpus.

Two detective sergeants attached to Inspector Byrnes's place went to the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning and caused a sensation.

They pored over the pages of the hotel register for several minutes and then went up to the second floor, occupied by Mr. Cornelius V. E. Miller and his wife, and two men-looking and fashionably attired women.

The ladies were placed under arrest although they protested that they were ignorant of any charges against them. They stood fast and protested that they were respectable ladies who had committed no crime and had never been arrested before.

They telegraphed for lawyers Howe and Hummel, who at once obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Barrett of the Supreme Court for the immediate production of the prisoners in court and Mr. Howe vied it on the police authorities.

The ladies had not been taken to Police Headquarters and the writ was then made returnable on Monday.

William E. Howe gave the following account of the proceedings to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"Mrs. Field and Mrs. Miller are the wives of Messrs. Field and Miller, who until recently did a very large banking and stock brokerage business in London."

"They failed a month ago for $500,000, and the receiver who took possession of their books, ascertained that the firm received a draft on America for $10,000 through Brown, Shipley & Co., and that during the past two months they have turned $150,000 into American currency."

"The ladies have been stopping at the Fifth Avenue Hotel and have a large sum of money with them."

"This morning two of Byrnes's men arrested them at the hotel. They had no warrant or other authority and gave the women no reason for making them prisoners except that they said they were suspected of having fled from England with some of the assets of the banking firm of Field & Co."

"They sent for us and we got a writ of habeas corpus, which we took to Police Headquarters at 11:30 this morning."

"Inspector Byrnes told us that he had no such women and that he could not obey the writ, which required their production in court before 12 o'clock."

"Shortly after noon the ladies arrived at Police Headquarters in custody of the detectives and we again went to Inspector Byrnes."

"He said, however, it was too late then to produce them in court."

"We again went before Judge Barrett and got him to make the writ returnable at 10:30 Monday morning."

"These ladies are Americans, and their arrest without a warrant is a gross outrage."

"It is an attempt to repeat the O'Brien-Dillon episode."

"It is the arrest of persons against whom no charge has been preferred. They are simply the wives of two alleged offenders."

"Meanwhile the ladies remain in a cell at Police Headquarters. They are elegantly attired and wear very valuable jewels."

Mrs. Fields' little daughter, a pretty child of six years, who wears a Kate Greenaway gown, was staying at the Fifth Avenue Hotel with her mother and Mrs. Miller. She went to Police Headquarters along with them.

An EVENING WORLD reporter saw Inspector Byrnes and asked him why he arrested the women without warrants.

"I have nothing to say," was the Inspector's only reply.

A HARD TUG OF WAR.

Final Decision of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Balfour May Ask the Extradition of Dillon and O'Brien.

Malcolm W. Ford, the ex-amateur champion all-around athlete of America, has been declared a professional.

The settlement of his status will be a relief to the athletic world, even though many of them may believe that Ford has been too summarily dealt with.

Ford was declared a professional at last night's meeting of the Board of Managers of the Amateur Athletic Union at Washington, D. C.

Messrs. Kurtz, Mathewson, Morrison, Harder and Perry, constituting the "Ford Committee," were not ready with their report on the case, and, therefore, as they seemed as far as ever from being able to arrive at a satisfactory decision the Board of Managers decided to take a vote on the Ford case.

Only two charges were considered in judging him. One of them was that he joined the Amateur Athletic Union, and the other was that he received a salary from the Brooklyn Athletic Association in 1906.

One of the members of the Board first moved that Ford be reinstated, which was defeated. Then it was proposed that he be suspended indefinitely, which was voted out by a majority of 10 to 2.

Finally the motion that he be disqualified from competing in contests of the Amateur Athletic Union, on the ground that he had violated the rules of the organization by accepting pay, was put before the Board and unanimously carried.

Thus ends the famous Ford case and probably Ford's career in the Amateur Athletic Union, as a participant in contests held under its auspices.

JUSTICE MILLER'S CONDITION.

Little Hope by Physician or Family for the Stricken Man.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—This morning's reports of the condition of Samuel F. Miller, senior Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who was stricken by paralysis while on his way home from the Capitol were most discouraging.

The paralysis of the left side had become complete at 10 o'clock, and the sick man had at that time lain for several hours in a state of utter unconsciousness.

Dr. Cook, the attending physician, says his patient is in a most critical state. Justice Miller's family have little hope, though death may not come for a day or two yet.

At noon there were signs that the Justice's pulse was becoming stronger, and his family was completely prostrate.
